GLOBAL MOBILISATION BRIEF

10 October 2026: Global Mobilisation

Organised by the Global Alliance for Palestine (GAFP) for Saturday, 10 October 2026, with a mobilisation window running from 9–11 October 2026.

Purpose: a clear and disseminatable mobilisation paper for partners, civil society organisations, trade unions, student groups, community networks, and advocacy stakeholders preparing for coordinated action.

OVERVIEW

On 10 October 2026, we reclaim our streets. Grassroots movements, student blocs, trade unions, and communities of conscience are being called to shut down city squares, encircle government buildings, and blockade complicit corporate hubs. This is not a symbolic march and not a routine protest. It is a coordinated global day of action designed to interrupt business-as-usual, confront political and economic complicity, and make public silence impossible to maintain.

We are mobilising because Israel's systematic genocide against the Palestinian people has not stopped for the last three years and has not slowed. Hollow international statements have not protected Palestinian life. A so-called ceasefire has not ended daily killing. Collective public action is therefore being advanced not as gesture, but as intervention.

This is not a centralised campaign but an open global platform that organisations from different backgrounds can join while maintaining their own identities and priorities. What matters is coordinated action, political clarity, and a shared refusal of silence.

SECTION 2

Why We Are Mobilising

Israel's systematic genocide against the Palestinian people has not stopped and has not slowed, despite hollow international pronouncements and the fiction of a ceasefire. What is being presented to the world as restraint has not halted the destruction of Palestinian life, homes, families, and futures. The source brief is clear: the machinery of killing continues, and silence continues to protect it.

Rationale

Figures as of 26 August 2026.

Total killed · Gaza

73,431

West Bank

1,108

Children killed

20,179

Women killed

12,500

Journalists killed

262

Medical staff killed

1,701

Objectives

- Stand in solidarity with the Palestinian people.
- Support Palestinian freedom, dignity and human rights.
- Protect civilians.
- Uphold international law.
- Promote accountability through all legal mechanisms for serious violations of international law by the state of Israel.
- End impunity.
- Mobilise global public opinion.
- Strengthen international civil society solidarity.

SECTION 3

What Organisations Can Do

Organisations, unions, student groups, and community networks are being asked to move from statement to action over the weekend of 9–11 October 2026. This is not a centralised campaign but an open global platform in which organisations from different backgrounds can participate while maintaining their own identities and priorities. The task is practical: mobilise visibly, organise seriously, and use the structures you already have to help build a coordinated public intervention.

Public protests, marches, and blockades

Organise high-visibility rallies, marches, picket lines, sit-ins, and peaceful blockades at civic sites, government offices, financial hubs, and corporate locations identified as complicit in sustaining or normalising Israeli violence.

Workplace, campus, and creative interventions

Coordinate silent walkouts during shifts or lecture hours. Use projections, street theatre, die-ins, banner drops, and other highly visible public actions that interrupt normal routines and make the political demand impossible to ignore.

Resourcing, transport, print, and legal support

Pass internal resolutions, allocate funds, organise transport, produce printed materials, and prepare legal, stewarding, and participant support so that turnout is real, safe, and sustainable.

Press work, digital toolkits, and briefing sessions

Issue press releases, circulate digital materials, and convene teach-ins or briefings so that local groups are aligned on messaging, core demands, and practical safety guidance ahead of the mobilisation weekend.

SECTION 4

Messaging

Communications Framing

The language of this mobilisation should be disciplined, credible, urgent, and impossible to ignore. It should make clear that the killing has not stopped, that institutional silence is part of the problem, and that organised public action is necessary to confront ongoing complicity.

Core Messages

- Three years of suffering are enough.
- We call for Israel to be held accountable for its crimes against Palestinians during the war of extermination.
- We call on the countries of the world to stop supporting the Israeli state with weapons.
- We demand justice.
- We remember the victims.
- No one should be above international law.

SECTION 5

Global Alliance for Palestine Launches Worldwide Day of Action for 10 October

A coordinated global mobilisation will call for an end to Israel's genocide against the Palestinians, an arms embargo, sanctions and an end to international complicity

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

17 August 2026

LONDON - The Global Alliance for Palestine (GAFP) has today announced the launch of a major global campaign for the weekend of 9–11 October 2026, centered on a Global Day of Action on Saturday, 10 October. Inviting hundreds of organisations worldwide to participate, the initiative aims to coordinate actions across several international cities.

The October 10 global mobilisation aims to play a vital role in placing Israel's ongoing genocide and war crimes back on the media agenda. By synchronising diverse protest activities across continents - connecting grassroots movements, student protests, workplace actions, rallies, and civil disobedience from Asia to the Americas, Europe, Africa, and the Middle East - the Alliance provides a platform to turn public outrage into collective leverage.

GAFP is offering campaign materials, coordination, and strategic support, enabling local civil society groups, trade unions, and student networks to shape actions that reflect their own political and community dynamics. The mobilisation is supported by the Anti-Apartheid Movement for Palestine (AAM) and the Global Coalition to End the Occupation of Palestine (SANED).

As Secretary-General Dr. Anas Altikriti noted, "In the face of ongoing genocide and political silence, standing by is no longer an option - coordinated global action is an absolute necessity to demand an immediate arms embargo and enforce real sanctions."

This mobilisation arrives at a critical juncture marked by political silence against the backdrop of three years of Israel's genocide in Gaza. While public solidarity for Palestinian rights has reached historic levels globally since 2023, diplomatic inaction and the illusion of a ceasefire have allowed the catastrophic reality on the ground to persist unchecked.

Official figures record at least 73,000 Palestinians killed, over 18,000 children killed, and around 70% of all structures and buildings in Gaza damaged or destroyed. Academic journals and expert assessments stress that these official counts represent a conservative baseline, with the true death toll estimated to be significantly higher. Crucially, these atrocities extend beyond Gaza; across occupied Palestine, accelerating state-backed settler violence, land seizures, and community displacements in the West Bank demonstrate a single, unified campaign of destruction that international silence continues to create the conditions for.

Ultimately, the campaign seeks to disrupt political silence, challenge institutional complicity, and build direct international pressure for tangible accountability mechanisms against Israel, including an immediate arms embargo and boycott, divestment, and sanctions (BDS).

Groups wishing to participate can register, download the campaign pack, and reach out to us via our Public Relations Officer using the details below.

The Global Alliance for Palestine invites editors, newsrooms, and journalists worldwide to cover this campaign.

A CALL FOR ADVOCACY & LEGISLATIVE MOBILISATION

Issued by: Global Alliance for Palestine (GAFP) | Mobilisation Window: 9–11 October 2026

GLOBAL DAY OF ACTION: SATURDAY, 10 OCTOBER 2026

With one month to go before the 10 October Global Day of Action, the Global Alliance for Palestine (GAFP) is expanding the analytical and strategic breadth of our global campaign on the 10th of October. Public mobilisations, campus walkouts, and peaceful blockades serve to break the illusion of public silence and disrupt routine complicity. However, to translate public outrage into structural leverage, we must simultaneously target the political, legislative, and institutional mechanisms that allow impunity to persist. This call comes at a significant moment of growing international movement towards concrete measures against the settlement enterprise. On 8 September, Canada, Denmark, Finland, France, Iceland, Ireland, Norway, Poland, Portugal, Spain, Sweden and the UK announced their intention to introduce or support restrictions on trade with illegal settlements, demonstrating that sustained political pressure can translate into concrete policy action. The 10 October mobilisation builds on this momentum by connecting mass public mobilisation with coordinated demands directed at parliaments, governments and international institutions.

We are issuing an open call to civil society organisations, trade unions, human rights associations, legal networks, and faith groups to lead coordinated parliamentary and institutional writing campaigns across their respective jurisdictions.

STRATEGIC RATIONALE & CORE PURPOSE

■ Providing an Inclusive Channel for Mobilisation

We recognise that physical presence on the streets is not accessible to everyone. Legal restrictions, workplace obligations, mobility limitations, or personal safety considerations can prevent individuals from taking part in public rallies. Coordinated, constituent-led advocacy ensures that every person and organisation can meaningfully contribute to collective political pressure.

■ Targeting the Mechanics of Complicity

Diplomatic statements and abstract calls for restraint have failed to halt the ongoing genocide or protect Palestinian lives. By targeting parliamentarians, house speakers, foreign ministries, and international representatives, writing campaigns demand formal parliamentary records, force mandatory official responses, and directly challenge state-sanctioned arms exports, economic agreements, and diplomatic immunity.

TARGET SPHERES & POLICY DEMANDS

TARGET AUTHORITY	KEY LEGISLATIVE & DIPLOMATIC DEMANDS
Members of Parliament & Representatives	Enforce immediate, total arms embargoes; end bilateral military licenses; vote for comprehensive state sanctions against violations of international law.
Speakers of Parliament & Assembly Leaders	Schedule emergency parliamentary debates; sponsor formal motions of censure; ensure constituent petitions on state complicity are formally entered into official records.
Heads of State & Foreign Offices	Comply with binding international court rulings (ICJ/ICC); suspend preferential trade agreements and subsidies; end diplomatic cover for illegal occupation and war crimes.
International & Regional Bodies	Activate statutory human rights clauses in bilateral treaties; suspend institutional partnerships; demand international law be enforced without political double standards.

PRACTICAL STEPS FOR PARTICIPATING ORGANISATIONS

STEP 01

Constituent Writing Drives

Mobilise membership networks and local communities to submit targeted, template-driven letters to elected representatives ahead of 10 October.

STEP 02

Institutional Open Letters

Coordinate joint policy statements signed by leading civil society coalitions and submit them directly to legislative speakers, parliamentary committees, and institutional heads.

STEP 03

Parliamentary Delegations & Surgeries

Organise constituent delegation visits and MP surgery appointments during the 9–11 October mobilisation window to present formal petitions directly to elected officials.

“Protests will be happening in hundreds of locations on 10 October, but a comprehensive campaign must also reach the institutions where political decisions are made. By combining mass mobilisation with coordinated parliamentary and institutional advocacy, we can turn public pressure into sustained political action and accountability.”

— Dr. Anas Altikriti, Secretary General, Global Alliance for Palestine

COORDINATION & CAMPAIGN RESOURCES

CAMPAIGN TOOLKITS & MATERIALS

The Global Alliance for Palestine provides downloadable campaign packs, model letter templates tailored to various jurisdictions, and digital briefing toolkits to support localised political campaigning.

“With one month to go, let us hold every institution and decision-maker to account. Mobilise, write, and demand justice.”

PRESS RELEASE

17 August 2026

LONDON — The Global Alliance for Palestine (GAFP) has issued an urgent call for a coordinated Global Day of Action on Saturday, 10 October 2026, with a broader mobilisation window from 9 to 11 October. The initiative is intended to interrupt business-as-usual, confront complicity, and make public and institutional silence impossible to sustain.

The mobilisation marks three years (1,100 days) of what the Alliance describes as Israel's systematic genocide against the Palestinian people. It says the destruction has continued despite diplomatic language and the fiction of a ceasefire, while Israel's aggression has expanded across the region, including the West Bank, South Lebanon and Iran.

The Alliance cites a devastating toll in Gaza. Official figures record at least 73,000 Palestinians killed during the course of Israel's ongoing genocide, including more than 18,000 children, with around 70% of all structures and buildings in Gaza damaged or destroyed. These figures are understood to be conservative, with independent analysts and researchers warning that the true death toll is likely to be significantly higher, including those who remain unaccounted for beneath the rubble or who have died indirectly as a result of the destruction of Gaza's health, food, water and sanitation systems.

In the occupied West Bank, the Alliance warns that mounting state-backed settler violence is an extension of the same ongoing genocide, displacing communities and seizing land under the cover of war. It calls on supporters to confront this expanding violence directly during the October 10 Global Day of Action.

'1,100 days into this genocide, the greatest stain on our collective conscience is the paralysing inaction of the international community. World leaders offer empty diplomacy while continuing to trade arms and shield Israel from accountability. On 10 October, where governments have abdicated their moral and legal duties, global civil society must step in to demand an end to this complicity.'

Anas Altikriti, Secretary-General, Global Alliance for Palestine

Guided by an international steering committee that includes Dr Mustafa Barghouti (Palestine), Jeremy Corbyn MP (UK), Gerry Adams (Ireland), Prof Yanis Varoufakis (Greece), Ronnie Kasrils (South Africa), Varsha Gandikota-Nellutla (India), and Angelo Bonelli MP (Italy), the Alliance is inviting organisations to join a common mobilisation while retaining their own identities and local priorities.

The mobilisation is supported by the Anti-Apartheid Movement for Palestine (AAM) and the Global Coalition to End the Occupation of Palestine (SANED).

Across the 9–11 October weekend, participating organisations are being urged to organise public rallies, sit-ins and peaceful blockades at civic, governmental and corporate sites linked to Israeli military operations. Planned workplace and campus actions include silent walkouts, lecture disruptions, die-ins, street theatre and banner drops.

Partner organisations are also being asked to pass formal resolutions, support participant transport, distribute campaign materials, coordinate media campaigns and provide legal and stewarding support where needed.

The campaign's core demands are clear: an immediate halt to the genocide and occupation, a comprehensive global arms embargo against Israel, concrete protection for Palestinians and their national rights, and the full application of international law to end systemic impunity.
